

Mutual Creamery Company

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH

PIONEER DEVELOPMENT

In many western states our time and money and pioneer work, with a cash market for the farmers' dairy and poultry products, have made it possible to reach the present splendid development, whereby western states have become exporters instead of importers.

WORLD WIDE MARKET

We reach local markets, also markets in any part of the United States and in all parts of the world, thus assuring the producers good returns and the benefit from a wide distribution of the products. The farmers produce and we sell those that consume and we bring in the dollars from over the mountains.

OUR PROFITS

Our profit is fixed by our Articles of Incorporation, namely: 3 per cent on sales, if we can earn that much, should we earn more than 3 per cent on sales, this surplus earning is returned to our producer-stockholders, holding stock in the company at the rate of one share, par value Ten Dollars, for every two cows milked, in proportion to the amount of milk, cream, eggs and poultry they sell us. This limits our profit to approximately one cent per pound in butter, six-tenths of a cent per pound in cheese, and nine-tenths of a cent per pound in milk.

COMPETITION

This company does not own a share of stock in any corporation or firm, whether competitors or not, directly or indirectly engaged in the creamery or produce business in the West, in the United States or in the world; and no firm, individual or corporation, whether competitors or not, directly or indirectly engaged in the creamery and produce business in the West, in the United States or in the world, owns any shares of stock which holds any interest whatsoever in this company.

STOCKHOLDERS

Two hundred and forty-three farmers have taken stock in our company, and sixty-six of our employees are stockholders. It is the right and privilege of every farmer, with milk and cream to sell, to become a stockholder with us, and 50 per cent of our capital stock is reserved for producers.

DIVIDENDS PAID DURING 1916

The total dividends distributed to stockholders during the year 1916 were 8 per cent upon the par value of stock outstanding. We have in addition to these dividends $404, to the farmers and producers above referred to 2 per cent upon the total value of dairy and poultry products sold by them to this company.

MARKET RECOVERING

By ready for occupancy and the clearing away of the snow from the exhibit and weighing corral is now well under way.

The exhibits are to be judged on April 15th and sold at auction April 16th. More than twelve hundred dollars will be awarded to exhibitors of fat stock.

Hay Twenty-seven Dollars.

MALAD, Ida., March 14.—The poor alfalfa crops of the valley and about that number taken to Montana, Nevada or to points in Idaho where feed is more plentiful. Since January last fifty-five thousand dollars worth of hay and corn has been shipped into Malad. This is the first time in its history that feed of any kind has been shipped in. Heretofore the ranchers had a surplus for market. At present hay is selling for twenty-seven dollars a ton.

WITH THE LIVE STOCKMEN: ITEMS OF LOCAL CONCERN

Several Farmers of Bonanza are purchasing a good large bunch of sheep in Montana to be delivered at Price at $14.75 a head. John Moffitt, Ed Cox, Wallace Moffitt and Fred Beach are a few of the interested ones.

The Dry Gulch Cattle Association has elected Roy Tait president; J. C. Angus, first vice president; E. C. Holby, second vice president; John W. Galwey, third vice president, and V. Laddin, secretary and treasurer.

Ogden Live Stock.

Designated last year, will be ordered to hasten construction.

The newly created compensation board of the navy will discuss details of the destroyer orders with the builders and determine the steps to be taken. The board also will hold its first conference on Saturday with the builders recently awarded contracts for battle cruisers.

HOW TO PREVENT CROUP.

When the child is subject to attacks of croup see to it that he eats a light evening meal, as an overloaded stomach may bring on an attack. Also watch for the first symptoms—hoarseness, and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse. Obtainable everywhere.—Advt.

The Sun gives special attention to out of town orders and requests for stationery and office supplies. Printing and merchandise for ranchmen, farmers, merchants and miners are promptly filled and mailed out by parcel post.

Original buttons and needlework stitches are effectively introduced among other details of dress.

Motor bonnets with chin straps are charming—on the right person—and are frequently made of dooskin.

MEDIATION OFFERED AS GERMAN RUSE THINKS THE ADMINISTRATION

LONDON, March 22.—The American steamer Healdton has been torpedoed. A boat containing seven of the Healdton's crew has reached Terschelling (North Sea). The sinking of the American steamship Healdton is confirmed by a dispatch from the Hague.

The steamer Healdton is a tanker of 4483 tons gross and is owned by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. She was built in 1908. The Healdton was last reported sailed from Philadelphia January 26th for Rotterdam.

This is the fourth American steamer torpedoed by the Germans.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—Word that a European neutral might offer mediation to prevent open war between the United States and Germany has come to the administration without causing surprise or in any way affecting the government's plans for meeting the situation forced by submarine ruthlessness. Such a proposal is regarded here as nothing more than another scheme fostered by Germany with the hope of confusing the issue and possibly dividing sentiment in this country while the destruction of American lives and ships on the high seas continues.

At the state department today officials would neither deny nor confirm that the government already had been approached on this subject, although it was admitted informally that some such move was not unexpected. It was emphatically stated that no suggestion of mediation or discussion would be considered unless it was accompanied by abandonment of illegal assault upon American shipping, a course in which there is no reason for believing the imperial government is giving a thought.

Aggression Must Cease.

The feeling in all quarters here is that the United States has with infinite patience and forbearance done everything possible with honor to avoid the virtual state of war now existing through German aggression. So long as this aggression continues, oficials say there is nothing to be done but adopt measures of defense, and no basis exists for discussion.

During the ten days that must elapse before congress assembles in special session President Wilson will give close personal attention to the preparations going forward through the war and navy departments. He saw his cabinet today, but was in touch with both of the departments. One of the duties he performed was the signing of a formal proclamation suspending the eight-hour law as applied to plants engaged on naval work, a step authorized by congress as a part of the general plans for speeding up construction.

Recruiting For Navy.

Secretary Baker, as chairman of the council of national defense, today called the council and its advisory committee of heads of great industrial concerns to meet here Saturday to discuss how much more work is necessary to put the country in a state of adequate preparedness for a defense. The council already has accomplished much toward mobilization of all the nation's resources. Samuel Gompers, as chairman of the council's committee on labor, issued invitations to a large number of workmen, employers and scientists to accept membership on the committee and attend its first meeting April 2d.

Additional efforts to stimulate recruiting for the navy were launched during the day. The response to the recruiting service during the last few months has been the best on record, but Secretary Daniels is determined to fill up promptly to the full authorized strength of 74,500 men.

Building Orders Placed.

Word was received that every ship-building plant capable of building destroyers would be represented at the department Saturday, when a great number of building orders will be placed. The department plans to build to the full capacity of the yards, and the number of destroyers to be ordered may be determined only when that capacity is known. ## FORTY-EIGHT RAILROADS REPORT ON COAL AND COKE MOVEMENTS

The Sun Special Service.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—The following statement of carloads of bituminous coal that originated on fifty-eight railroads and of bechive coke on fourteen roads in February, 1917, is compiled from reports received by the geological survey, department of the interior, by noon, March 15, 1917. Comparative figures based on reports for February, 1917.

	Feb. 1917.	Jan. 1917.	Feb. 1916.
Number of working days	23	26	24
Carloads of bituminous coal—
Pennsylvania (thirteen roads)	103,289	179,974	183,495
West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland and Ohio (ten roads)	164,982	199,610	185,501
Illinois and Indiana (sixteen roads)	144,522	164,178	148,771
Kentucky and Alabama (six roads)	28,781	42,488	32,387
Iowa, Texas, Colorado and Utah and the Southwestern States (thirteen roads)	48,557	52,625	48,880
Fifty-eight roads	541,216	649,118	597,124
Carloads of bechive coke (fourteen roads)	38,450	72,110	75,124

The decrease in shipments of bituminous coal in February, 1917, compared with January, 1917, was 15.5 per cent, and compared with February, 1916, was 9.4 per cent. The average number of cars of coal per working day was 23,531 in February, 1917, against 24,570 in January, 1917, and 24,892 in February, 1916. The shipments in February were less than in January, which was to be expected because of the fewer working days. These statistics indicate that, except in Kentucky and Alabama, the daily rate of production was lower in February than in January, 1917, and considerably less than in February, 1916. The average daily loading on twenty-three roads in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland and Ohio was 7 per cent less in February than in January, 1917, and on thirteen roads west of the Mississippi was 19 per cent less.

The shipments of bechive coke in February, 1917, showed a decrease of 19.3 per cent compared with January, 1917, and a decrease of 20.1 per cent compared with February, 1916.

QUESTION AS TO THE DEMISE OF "LORD" SCOTT-ELLIOTT RECENTLY

PROVO, March 16.—Some doubt has been raised here as to the correctness of the report that L. A. Scott-Elliott, who was a British nobleman engaged in ranching and stockraising in Carbon county in 1886 to 1890, died recently in England. Brooks Fairbanks, who was Scott-Elliott's foreman and who has been in correspondence with Scott-Elliott since the latter left the state in 1890, was here this week—in he now in the employ of Life Brown, a prominent sheepman—and also well acquainted with Scott-Elliott, spoke about the latter's death. Fairbanks said he had just received a letter from Scott-Elliott, which he showed to Thompson. The latter says the letter was from England and that he is quite sure it had been written after the time of the reported death of Scott-Elliott but Fairbanks having left to go to the sheep ranch in the eastern part of the state, the date of the letter cannot be learned.

ing house of McCormick & Co. at Salt Lake City. Relatives in England of the deceased had written the Salt Lake City bankers in connection with any estate that might be in Utah. Elliott it will be remembered by most of the oldtimers in Carbon county, was the owner of Big Springs ranch near Honeyside. The litigation between himself and George C. Whitmore over Grassy Trail Creek waters (the stream through Honeyside) occupied the attention of the courts of Utah for years, especially the district court of Carbon county. Each of the two men is supposed to have spent a small fortune. Since the foregoing was put in type Brooks Fairbanks has been a visitor in Price. His attention being called to the dispatch from Provo as here given, he told The Sun that "Lord" Scott-Elliott's address is Arenton, KIng, a town on the line of England and Scotland. The latter is about 64 years of age now and since leaving Carbon county has married. He left here some twenty-six years ago.

Draped effects over the hips appear on many of the new sport skirts.

STATE AUDITOR GUARDING PEOPLE AGAINST POSSIBLE BOUNTY FRAUDS

Joseph Hirs, state auditor, is sending out notices to county clerks calling attention to changes in the bounty laws as the result of the signing last Monday of the Hammond bounty bill. It is feared by some state officials, among them Mark Tuttle, formerly a county clerk, that attempts may be made in some instances to defraud the state, as a result of the high bounties allowed under the bill. The new bounty, for example, calls for a fifty dollar bounty for black, gray or timber wolves, as against fifteen dollars under the old law. It is said to be extremely difficult to tell the head of a large sized coyote at certain seasons of the year from that of a rather ordinary gray wolf, and that the temptation may be to attempt to collect the fifty dollar bounty instead of the $2.50 allowed for coyotes. That $2.50 figure itself may provide another source of annoyance to Utah officials, since Nevada, for example, carries only a fifty-cent bounty on coyotes. Even now, it is hinted, Nevada residents close to the Utah line may be finding it profitable to retain the heads of coyotes slain this winter, to bring across the line into Utah as soon as the new bounty law is effective. Hirs calls attention in his letter to the fact that the bounties on bear, mountain lion and cougar have been raised from fifteen to twenty-five dollars and that bounties of five cents a head are allowed on jack rabbits and quippers, and of three cents a head on prairie dogs and ground squirrels. In the latter instances the bill saves the state a lot of bookkeeping by providing that the county clerks shall pay the bounty direct to the hunters, and shall forward the bill to the state auditor when it reaches an aggregate of fifty dollars. In this way boys or others who have been encouraged to hunt the small rodent pests for the sake of the bounty money will not have to wait long for their pay. Hirs is also notifying the county clerks of the changes in the live stock law, which requires that recording of marks and brands shall now be done by the state live stock board, instead of by the auditor.
